AQTRA

01 WHO WE ARE ?

Our History

Accuracy and Quality Co. Ltd' Or NAQTRA" was established more than ten years ago, despite all the challenges that we faced, AQTRA was and still is in continuous development and stability, due to the standards of accuracy and quality, where the name of the company was inspired by the directions of the company founders to win the lead in this field, and capability to compete with major contracting companies in the electro-mechanical field. AQTRA has been distinguished in MEP works, whether at the executive level or the design and supervision level, and solving all coordination issues of MEP works for many projects in various disciplines from design, construction, construction, supply, installation, services, upgrades, and maintenance of MEP systems and networks, facilities and equipment that include sectors including residential, health care and industrial and hospitality.

Our scope covers engineering, documentation, submitting approval, shop drawings, coordinating drawings, commissioning, start-up, and as-built. Commitment to executing projects with high quality, on schedule, specifications, international standards, and within budget while adhering to excellent health, safety, and environmental standards.

01 WHO WE ARE ?

Our Message

We believe that true success is not a matter of Chance but rather a skill derived from the right decisions at the right moments Since our start in the contracting world in the MEP field, our policy has been to be selective in our choices. We have always chosen our engineers to be highly skilled and motivated. We selected our technicians by properly filtering hundreds of candidates to recruit the right person for the correct position. We are always searching for state of the art technologies to meet the ever-growing market needs. At AQTRA, we believe that teamwork is the base of any success. Therefore, we have always oriented our staff to be independent thinkers and decision-makers. Yet, team players contribute with their expertise and knowledge to the company's success under the umbrella of management - who looks after every detail in every project from start to finish. We believe that each member of AQTRA's family is an asset, from the minor worker to the senior management. Therefore, we maintain ties of mutual respect and understanding among our staff. More importantly, we have always believed that our clients are our partners in success. That is why all our business is bound by mutual-respect, benefit, and support where needed. All the above values made AQTRA one of the country's most recognized companies in its field. AQTRA is always and will always be in the quest for new challenges to face, new technologies to acquire new horizons to explore.
